

Let an Executive Search Firm Represent You

Who can benefit by using an Executive Search Consultant?

General Managers, Directors of Golf, Golf Professionals, Food and Beverage Managers, Superintendents, Mechanics.

Why do our candidates care? What's in it for them?

Expertise.

No one knows the niche golf industry like Green Hunters Recruiting and Consulting. Because we are Executive Search Consultants we have our fingers on the pulse of trends across the enterprise. We know where the best prospective opportunities are. We work with your interest in mind and do so confidentially. Having been Golf Course Superintendents, we know how to best present you with the most sought after opportunities.

What does our company do?

We change lives.

We make a difference in your career by acting as your agent and career counselor. We find the best fit for your skill set and expertise. We discuss your aspirations and where you want to take your career. We find opportunities for you that could significantly increase your quality of life, your income and your presence in the industry.

Why is our company different?

Green Hunters is a boutique search firm with a focus on integrity, ethics, and service. Unlike others we focus solely on the green industry. When it comes to presenting the best opportunities for our candidates, our search methodology goes beyond standard internet postings, and word of mouth. We seek out and partner with best in the industry.

What environment is our company operating within?

The golf course industry is extremely competitive when comes to hiring the best. Clubs, resorts and management companies alike are challenged with locating, hiring and retaining the most skilled and talented professionals due to consistent growth and expansion both nationally and internationally.

What single thing does our company do better than any other?

Green Hunters, more than any other, can identify your career's unique needs, and match the open position with the best and brightest in the industry. Each candidate has their own personality with individual requirements and needs. We match the job opportunity with your career aspirations.