

Use an Executive Search Firm that Meets Your Needs

Who can benefit by using an Executive Search Consultant?

Golf Clubs, Resorts, Golf Management Companies

Why do our customers/clients care? / What's in it for them?

Expertise.

No one knows the niche golf industry like Green Hunters Recruiting and Consulting. Because we are Executive Search Consultants we have our fingers on the pulse of trends across the enterprise. We know who and where the prospective top talent is, and how to best package and sell your entities' respective opportunity. Having held the position of Golf Course Superintendent for over twenty years, we have extensive networking capabilities.

What does our company do?

We cast a wider net.

We'll save you time, money, and keep you from making the wrong hiring decision. Green Hunters Recruiting and Consulting searches nationally and internationally for top talent. Many positions that are posted do not attract the best passive jobseeker. We do. We conduct the full life cycle search so you can concentrate on your day to day activities.

Why is our company different?

Green Hunters is a boutique search firm with a focus on integrity, ethics, and service. Unlike others, we focus solely on the green industry. Our search methodology goes beyond standard internet postings, and word of mouth. We seek out, isolate, and bring to you the top performers in the industry.

What environment is our company operating within?

The golf course industry is extremely competitive when comes to hiring the best. Clubs, resorts and management companies alike are challenged with locating, hiring and retaining the most skilled and talented professionals due to consistent growth and expansion both nationally and internationally.

What single thing does our company do better than any other?

Green Hunters, more than any other, can identify your golf courses' unique needs, and match the open position with the best and brightest in the industry. Each particular golf course has its own personality with individual requirements and needs. We match that personality with the right candidate for that particular golf course.
